B) Lionel Loueke, represented by Helen Schouwenburg-Kontos, registered at Anonymous 5, 63088 Nikiti, Greece, Tax nr. GR046424023 = Artist.

The above mentioned parties have agreed to the following:

1. The organizer books the artist for one concert on February 5, 2023 at Domicil in Dortmund, Germany.
2. The organizer pays a net fee of €1.800 plus a travel share of €200 = €2.000. An advance of €500 will be transferred upon signature of the contract and the remaining balance will be paid within a week after the concert. In the country of performance, any legally required tax over the fee and any other legal obligations are to be paid by the organizer and a receipt given to the artist with payment of the fee or the latest in January of the following year.
3. The organizer provides a local transport buyout of €120.
4. The organizer provides 2 decent sized rooms in a 4* hotel (or equivalent) with breakfast, parking and internet included, tbc by the artist.
5. The organizer provides a decent hot meal for 2 persons.
6. The organizer provides backstage catering (cold and hot drinks, snacks) at the venue during sound check and concert.
7. The organizer provides a professional sound system, technicians and back line according to the rider of the group (attached).
8. Any radio/TV recording/broadcast is to be agreed on in a separate written communication.
9. The artist makes sure to be available for the agreed dates, to travel according to schedule and to perform according to the promised standard.
10. In case the concert is cancelled due to force majeure, e.g. illness (with official doctor's confirmation), Covid-19 restrictions, war, earthquake, strike, terrorist attack or threat, delayed flights (anything which makes a performance impossible) all expenses that can't be avoided anymore will be covered as agreed including the travel share in case there are issued flights or other expenses for the tour on the side of the artist which can't be refunded. In case the concert is canceled due to the fault of the organizer, the artist will still receive the agreed fee and all expenses will be covered as agreed.
